North African Textiles

Christopher Spring, Julie Hudson : North African Textiles before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised North African Textiles:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Passion for African Adornment By Ishvara Very detailed research of an unusual subject. Every collector of ethnic adornment will appreciate this book. Great photos and detail. Lots of well researched information on the topic as well. Africa has so little documented for lovers of ethnic textiles.

North African Textiles celebrates a living tradition whose dynamism is apparent in the continued flourishing of old techniques and styles, whilst readily adapting to new materials and markets. The authors provide a much needed survey of a neglected subject and offer valuable new insights into the significance of textiles in the understanding of North African cultural tradition as a whole.

About the Author Christopher Spring is curator of the African collections at the British Museum. He is the author of numerous books on African art and culture, including African Arms and Armour, North African Textiles and African Art in Detail
